OKLAHOMA CITY THUNDER NOTES

30 Never Looked so Good: With his game-high 32 points against the Los Angeles Clippers on Friday night (3/5), Kevin Durant registered his 35th 30-plus scoring game of the season. The 35 games of 30+ points are the MOST in the NBA this year. Most importantly, the Thunder is 24-11 when Durant scores 30+. With 21 games remaining in the regular season, Durant has already TIED the franchise-record for most 30-point games in a season (Spencer Haywood; 1972-1973). Earlier this year, Durant set an all-time franchise record by scoring 30+ points in SEVEN consecutive contests (12/22 – 1/2). During this two-week long run, Durant posted averages of 33.6 points on 56.8% shooting (84-148 FG's) including 45.8% shooting from behind the 3-point arc (11-24). LeBron James was the last NBA player to piece together a seven-game string of 30+ points scored (November 2007).

Friendly February: With seven straight wins to open the month of February, the Oklahoma City Thunder extended their longest winning streak (nine games) since 2004. By defeating the Toronto Raptors 119-99 on 2/28, OKC finished the month of February with a 9-2 mark (.818). The 81.8% winning percentage is the highest in a given month (minimum 10 games) for the franchise since January 1997 (.846). The 9-2 record proved enough to win Thunder head coach Scott Brooks NBA Coach of the Month honors it was announced last Monday by the League Office. In his first full-season as Thunder head-coach, Brooks wins the award for the first time in his career.

A Run for the Record-Books: In a streak that spanned 64 days, Kevin Durant became the ONLY active NBA player to score 25 or more points in 29 consecutive games. The streak which began 12/22 at LAL came to an end on 2/24 when Durant recorded a team-high 21 points in the Thunder's loss to San Antonio. During the 29-game run, the Thunder posted a record of 20-9 as KD averaged 32.4 points on 50.8% shooting including 50.0% (51-102) from behind the three-point arc. Durant becomes the first player in NBA history under the age of 22 to piece-together 29 straight games of 25+ points. Ray Allen held the previous franchise mark by recording 25-plus in ten straight games during the 2006-07 season. Michael Jordan was the last player to exceed KD's streak when he recorded 25+ points in 40 straight games during the 1986-87 season.

Kobe Bryant (LAL)	Two occasions	19

NBA's Leading Scorer...Almost: In recent days Kevin Durant and LeBron James have each taken turns leading the NBA in scoring. With his 32 points versus the Clippers on Friday night, KD (29.7 ppg) only trails LeBron (30.0) ever so slightly in the race for the league's scoring title. If KD were to lead the league in scoring at season's end, he would become the first ever OKC franchise player to accomplish the feat. Dating back to Christmas day, Durant leads the NBA with a 31.4 point-per-game average on 49.3% field goal shooting including 45.0% (54-120) three-point shooting.

Russell Rules: After recording double-figure assist totals nine times during his rookie season (2008-09), Russell Westbrook tallied his 20th double-figure assist game of this season earlier this week vs. the Kings (3/2). He has now recorded double-doubles in six of the last nine Thunder contests. Included in that stretch, Westbrook registered his second career triple-double 2/21 at Minnesota where he finished the night with 22 points to go along with 10 rebounds and 14 assists. Westbrook, who currently ranks T-7th in the NBA with 7.9 assists per game, recorded double-figure assist totals in four straight contests (12/28 – 1/2). The last OKC franchise player to record such a feat was Gary Payton who handed-out 10-plus assists in four consecutive games during the 2001-02 season (1/3/02 – 1/10/02). Oklahoma City is 14-4 this year when Westbrook records 10+ assists.

Boards are the Barometer: With the NBA schedule heading into the home-stretch, rebounding has proven to be a key element of the Thunder's early-season success. OKC who ranks 3rd in the NBA in rebounding, has outrebounded their opponent in 39 of 61 games this season. In those games, OKC posts a 29-10 record. Meanwhile, the Thunder is just 8-14 when they fail to outrebound their opponent. During a three-game stretch to close-out 2009 (12/23 at PHX – 12/28 at NJ), OKC outrebounded their opponent by 10 or more in each of the three straight contests. It had been four years since the OKC franchise last outrebounded their opponent by 10+ in three consecutive games (12/23/05 – 12/29/05). On the season, the Thunder is 11-1 when outrebounding their opponent by 10 or more.

Road Warriors: With their victory over the Minnesota Timberwolves (2/21), the Thunder won five consecutive road games for the first time since February of 2005. Earlier this season, the Thunder pieced together two separate three-game road winning streaks. As a point of reference, the OKC franchise failed to win three straight road contests in each of the last two seasons. With their win over the Clippers at Staples Center (3/5), OKC owns an 18-13 record away from the Ford Center. The 18 road wins exceeds the combined road win total for the past two seasons (15). The Thunder is one of EIGHT NBA teams to boast a winning road record this season.

Feasting on the East: With their victory over the Toronto Raptors (2/28), OKC is 18-6 (.750) versus Eastern Conference opponents. The 18 wins against "The East" are more than twice the Thunder road win total for all of last season. This year, OKC has already "swept" FIVE Eastern Conference teams (Miami, Detroit, Washington, Atlanta and New York). Last season, the Thunder failed to "sweep" a single Eastern Conference foe as OKC concluded the year with an 8-22 mark against "The East".

Winning with D: With their 104-87 victory over the Clippers two nights ago, the Thunder ranks 7th in the NBA by allowing 96.4 points per game (allowed 103.1 points per game last season). The Thunder has held their opponent to 90 points or fewer in eighteen games this season (16-2 record in such contests). Oklahoma City also ranks 3rd in opponent field goal percentage as the Thunder allow their opposition to shoot 43.9%. Lastly, defense is quickly becoming the trademark during Thunder victories this season. In the 37 Thunder wins (SAC, DET, ORL, LAC, SA, MIA, WAS, UTA, MIL, PHI, GS, MEM, DET, PHX, CHA, NJ, WAS, UTA, CHI, IND, NY, MIA, ATL, MIN, DEN, GS, ATL, NO, GS, POR, DAL, NY, MIN, TOR, SAC and LAC), OKC is allowing only 93.4 points per game on 42.7% shooting.

Back-2-Back Sets: The Thunder recently concluded their 13 back-to-back of the season by splitting a set between the Kings (win; 3/2) and Nuggets (loss; 3/3). In "sweeping" their back-to-back versus the Knicks (2/20) and Timberwolves (2/21) last month, OKC has now "swept" three back-to-backs this season. Earlier this year, the Thunder captured a "sweep" of a back-to-back match-up by defeating the Nets and Wizards on 12/28 and 12/29. It was the first "sweep" of a B-2-B by the OKC franchise since March 27th and 28th of 2007. During the teams' 13 already completed back-to-backs this season, the Thunder secured a "split" in seven of those match-ups to go along with three "sweeps". This year, the Thunder is 7-6 on the first night of a back-to-back and 6-7 on the second night. Last season, the Thunder posted an 8-28 record in their back-to-back match-ups (3-15 in first game, 5-13 in second game).

Worth Noting: During the Thunder's 113-107 victory over the Sacramento Kings on Tuesday night (3/2), Kevin Durant (39 points/10 rebounds) and Russell Westbrook (30 points/13 assists) finished with their 19th and 17th double-doubles of the year, respectively. This marks the first time in NBA history that two teammates, each age 21 or younger, each had a 30/10 game.

All-Star Recap: Kevin Durant made his inaugural NBA All-Star debut last month (2/14) at Cowboy Stadium in front of a record crowd of 108,713 on hand to witness a 141-139 Eastern Conference victory. Durant came off the "West" bench to see 20 minutes of action during which time he knocked-down half of his 14 shots en route to 15 points and five rebounds. On Saturday night (2/13), Durant captured his second H-O-R-S-E victory as he eliminated Boston's Rajon Rondo and Sacramento's Omri Casspi. Meanwhile, Thunder rookie James Harden and second-year guard Russell Westbrook competed in the T-Mobile Rookie-Sophomore Challenge and Youth Jam held at the American Airlines Center on Friday night (2/12). Westbrook led all scorers with 40 points on 18-29 shooting in 32 minutes of action. James Harden helped lead the rookies to victory as he posted 22 points (9-14 FGs) in just 23 minutes of action. Westbrook was also added as a last-minute replacement for Derrick Rose in the NBA Skills Competition.

All Good Things Must Come to an End: With their loss to the Phoenix Suns on 2/23, the Thunder fell victim to a loss for the first time in nearly a month (1/27 vs. Chicago). The Thunder loss snapped a run of nine straight Oklahoma City victories. The nine consecutive wins is the longest streak for the OKC franchise since the team won nine games in a row after losing its season opener to begin the 2004-05 season (11/5/04 – 11/19/04). Additionally, the nine-game streak at the time was the longest win streak in the NBA. During the nine game undefeated stretch, the Thunder shot 47.5% from the floor while outscoring the opposition by a 104.9 to 96.6 margin.

Youth Movement: As of February 24, the Oklahoma City Thunder is the youngest team in the NBA with an average age of 24 years and 338 days (Memphis 2nd youngest; 24 years, 364 days). Additionally, as of opening night (10/28), the OKC starting lineup (Durant, Green, Krstic, Sefolsha and Westbrook) was the youngest in the league with an average age of 23 years and 179 days. For a matter of comparison, the age of the average NBA roster is 26 years and 329 days and the oldest team in the league entering the 2009-10 season was the San Antonio Spurs with an average age of 29 years and 73 days (as of opening night). There are currently nine players on the Thunder roster age 23 or younger.

Select Company: If Kevin Durant were to maintain his current 29-plus scoring clip throughout the remainder of the season, he would find himself amongst some select NBA company. Only LeBron James has posted a higher scoring total than Durant at age 21 or younger. To the right is a list of other notable scoring totals for players age 21 or younger.

NBA's Top Scoring Averages (age 21 or younger)
	Year	PPG	Team
Kevin Durant	2009-10	29.7	OKC
LeBron James	2005-06	31.4	CLE
LeBron James	2004-05	27.2	CLE
Tracey McGrady	2000-01	26.8	HOU
Carmelo Anthony	2005-06	26.5	DEN

Talking Turnovers: During OKC's game at Milwaukee (1/2), Thunder guard Russell Westbrook handed-out 13 assists without committing a single turnover. With ZERO turnovers against the Bucks, he recorded the most assists (13) without a turnover (in franchise history) since April 8, 2001 (Gary Payton; 15 assists, 0 TO's). Additionally, it is the most assists without a turnover in the NBA in nearly a year (Chris Paul 15 assists, zero turnovers; 1/6/09). With his zero-turnover performance in the Thunder's recent win vs. NY (1/11), Westbrook has failed to commit a single turnover in six games this season (5-1 OKC record). As a team, the Oklahoma City Thunder committed 14 or fewer turnovers in EIGHT consecutive games to close 2009 (12/16 – 12/29). On the year, OKC is 21-11 when committing 15 or fewer turnovers.

45-4-KD: In the Thunder's outing versus Golden State (1/31), Kevin Durant posted his 14th double-double of the year by recording a season-high 45 points to go along with 11 rebounds. By converting 16-of-21 field goals, KD becomes just the second player in franchise history to record 45+ points on better than 75.0% shooting (Spencer Haywood on 1/7/72; 48 pts on 21-28 FGs). Shaquille O'Neal was the last NBA player to accomplish such a feat {2/27/09 TOR @ PHX (48 pts on 21-28 FGs)}.

Close, but... The Oklahoma City Thunder lost four games played between 1/13 – 1/23 (CLE, MEM, DAL and SA) by a combined FIVE points. The aggregate five point deficit is the smallest combined margin of defeat for four consecutive losses in franchise history. It has been more than a decade since another NBA team last experienced four straight losses by a total of just five points (Indiana Pacers; 3/30/99 – 4/10/99).

Filling up the Ford: The Thunder began the 2009-10 season right where they left off... with another sellout. Those that made up the capacity crowd of 18,203 on opening night (10/28) in Oklahoma City were greeted with a new and improved Ford Center. As part of a taxpayer funded initiative passed in March 2008, numerous arena improvements were recently completed. The Ford Center now boasts a state-of-the art scoreboard, new terrace suites and a courtside club to go along with a new and improved Thunder locker room. Last season, fans from near and far flocked to Oklahoma City to witness Thunder basketball. During the Thunder's inaugural season in OKC, the Ford Center recorded 18 sellouts (19,136) including eight consecutive to end the season. In 41 home games, the Thunder's average attendance topped the 18,700 mark (11th best in the NBA), accounting for an average capacity of nearly 98.0%. This season, the Thunder has sold-out 17 of their 30 home contests. The Thunder is drawing an average crowd of 17,918 representing 98.4% capacity.

Another Thunder POW: Russell Westbrook earned his first Player of the Week award for 2009-10 it was announced earlier this month by the NBA. Westbrook won the award for games played February 1-7. During the seven day span Westbrook helped lead Oklahoma City to a 3-0 week, including two wins on the road (GS, NO) while averaging 19.7 points, 9.7 assists, 8.0 rebounds and 3.3 steals. Earlier this season, Thunder forward Kevin Durant was twice named NBA Player of the Week (January 25-31 and December 28 through January 3).

New and Improved: Through the first four-plus months of the NBA season, Thunder second-year guard Russell Westbrook has shown an improved all-around game. During his first 61 contests, Westbrook is averaging 16.6 points, 7.9 assists and 5.1 rebounds in 35.2 minutes per game. Only a select number of NBA players have maintained such averages throughout the course of an entire season. Below is a list of those second-year players to average 16-plus points, 6-plus assists and 4-plus rebounds during their sophomore NBA seasons.

Second-Year Player Averages (last 10 years)
	Year	PPG	APG	RPG
Russell Westbrook	2009-10	16.6	7.9	5.1
Chris Paul	2005-06	17.3	8.9	4.4
LeBron James	2003-04	27.2	7.2	7.4
Dwyane Wade	2003-04	24.1	6.8	5.2
Gilbert Arenas	2001-02	18.3	6.3	4.7
Steve Francis	1999-00	19.9	6.5	6.9

Technically Speaking: With ten (individual) technical fouls called through the first 61 games of the 2009-10 season, the Thunder continue their run of being one of the fewest "T'd-Up" teams in the league. During the 2008-09 season, 11 individual technicals (excludes defensive technicals) were whistled on Thunder players and coaches. This total was the fewest awarded to any NBA team during the season. In addition, the Thunder committed 31 total technical fouls (includes individual and defensive 3-second technicals) which tied for the fewest in the NBA (San Antonio). This total also represents the fewest "T's" committed in the NBA since the 1997-98 season (Golden State; 22).

Defending When it Matters: During the Thunder's 83-79 victory over the Los Angeles Clippers (11/11) at STAPLES Center, OKC held the Clippers to just 10 4th quarter points on 15.8% shooting (3-19 FG's). The 10 points surrendered in the 4th quarter is the fewest allowed since the 2006-07 season when the OKC franchise held the New Orleans Hornets to an all-time franchise low six 4th quarter points. Through the first 61 games of the season, the Thunder is limiting their opponents to 22.7 points during the final 12 minutes of regulation.

Perfection from the Stripe: During OKC's loss to the Sacramento Kings (11/10), Kevin Durant recorded a game-high 37 points in large part due to his efficiency from the charity stripe. Durant set a franchise record by converting 18 made free throws without a miss (also a NBA season-high). Setting all-time franchise records from the free throw line is not unfamiliar to Durant. Last season versus the Los Angeles Clippers (1/23/09), KD converted 24 made free throws (on 26 attempts) en route to a 46-point performance at STAPLES Center. Durant's 24 made free throws set a Thunder franchise record. In addition, Durant set a NBA season-high for most FT's made during the 2008-09 season. In doing so, Durant became one of only four players over the last 20 years to convert 24+ FT's in a single game (MR; LeBron James: 24-of-28 on 3/12/06).

Harden's Greatest Hits: In the Thunder match-ups vs. Orlando (11/18) and Washington (11/20), Harden connected on 10-of-13 3-point field goals including seven consecutive makes during this two-game stretch. The seven consecutive makes ties a rookie record for the most consecutive 3-pointers converted by a first-year player since Michael Dickerson made eight straight for the Houston Rockets (5/4/99-5/5/99). His six 3-point makes at Orlando (11/18) tied a rookie franchise record (Rich Frahm; 12/20/03).

KD in Rarified Air: With his 28-point performance on 11-of-22 shooting versus the Jazz in Utah, Kevin Durant became just the fourth player in league history, joining LeBron James (twice), Shaquille O'Neal and Michael Jordan, to score at least 400 points during the first 15 games of a season at age 21 or younger. Red-hot scoring streaks are not unfamiliar territory to Durant. Last season prior to his injury at Dallas (2/27), Kevin Durant found himself on a scoring tear seldom witnessed by a second year NBA player. In the 17 games prior to his injury (1/16 vs. DET through 2/24 vs. LAL), Durant posted a scoring average of 32.3 points per game. During this five-week long span, Durant led the NBA in scoring by a 2.4 point per game margin (LeBron James; 29.9 ppg). It had been 35 years since a second-year player last averaged 32+ points across a 17-game span (Bob McAdoo; 34.7 ppg during the 1974 season).

Century Mark: On December 2nd versus the Philadelphia 76ers, Thunder 2nd guard Russell Westbrook notched his 100th career game in memorable fashion. In 34 minutes played vs. Philly, Westbrook recorded a season-high 15 assists, marking the 14th time in his career in which he has reached double-figure assist totals. By posting 11 double-doubles (points and assists) through his first 100 career contests, Westbrook becomes one-of-twelve active players to have accomplished the feat. He joins the likes of Jason Kidd, Chris Paul, Allen Iverson and Deron Williams by posting 11-plus double-doubles comprised of points and assists through his first 100 career games played.

Strong back-2-back Showings at the Ford: With their 127-108 victory over the Wizards on 11/20 and their 108-90 win over the Milwaukee Bucks on 11/27, the OKC franchise won back-to-back home games by 18-plus points for the first time since November of 2004 (Nov. 5th – 10th). During this two-game home tear, the Thunder averaged 117.5 points on 50.3% shooting (48.6% 3-point shooting). The 127 points scored versus the Wizards on 11/20 was the most recorded in regulation (excluding overtime) by the OKC franchise since February 21st, 2001 (127-98 win vs. DEN).
